

A child wearing a vibrant rainbow-colored jacket and a brown hat is captured mid-jump in a park. The child's arms are raised high, and their mouth is open in a joyful shout. They are surrounded by a flurry of falling autumn leaves in shades of orange, yellow, and brown. The ground is covered in a thick layer of these fallen leaves. In the background, several trees with green and yellowing foliage stand against a soft, out-of-focus light. A large, semi-transparent green circle is centered over the child, serving as a backdrop for the text.
